APPEAL OF DISMISSAL PROCESS

Effective Date: August 6, 2009
Policy Number: 340.045

A student may appeal dismissals for academic reasons.

To explain appeal of dismissal.

If a student dismissed for academic reasons wishes to appeal within the University, the following shall be the procedure:

a) Within ten (10) working days of receipt of the notice of dismissal, the student may request that the dismissal be reviewed by the academic dean or the dean's designee if the student has declared a major. Those students who have not declared majors may request review of dismissal from the Dean of Undergraduate Education or his designee.

b) The academic dean or designee shall make findings and report the decision to the student.

c) The decision of the dean or the dean's designee shall be the final decision in the appeal process.

d) No appeal may be granted if a student's term GPA falls below 2.0 while he/she is on probation after reinstatement.

e) Upon being placed on probation, a student must be advised in writing of the preceding provision.

Effective Date: June 29, 1994; Revision Date: August 6, 2009.
